Summary

Over the past 1.8 years, I have developed and maintained cross-platform mobile applications using Flutter. My work involved collaborating closely with UX/UI designers to turn designs into functional apps, integrating RESTful APIs, and incorporating third-party libraries. I ensured optimal app performance through thorough testing and debugging and successfully published apps to both the Google Play Store and the Apple App Store. During this time, I became proficient in Dart and familiar with state management techniques like Provider, Riverpod, and Bloc. I also gained experience with Firebase for backend services and utilized Git for version control. Working in agile development environments, I delivered several projects on time, achieving high user satisfaction and continually improving app performance and interfaces based on user feedback. Throughout my experience, I honed my problem-solving skills, effective communication, teamwork, and adaptability, always staying updated with the latest Flutter updates and industry trends.
